DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-31, 33, 34, 35-49, and 75-79, drawn to method of diagnosing a subject with inflammatory joint disease (IJD) by measuring osteoclast precursor cells (OCP) and kit therefor, classified in class 436, subclass 811, for example.
 - II. Claims 32, drawn to method of diagnosing IJD by culturing peripheral blood mononuclear cells and measuring concentration of TNF- α protein that is secreted, classified in class 435, subclass 374, for example.
 - III. Claims 50-71 and 80-93, drawn to method of treatment and monitoring treatment of IJD, classified in class 424, subclass 9.2, for example.
 - IV. Claims 72-74, drawn to method of identifying an agent having the ability to treat IJD, classified in class 436, subclass 517, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-IV are independent and distinct methods. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions different designs, modes of operation, different functions, and different effects in that Invention I obtains a measure of any one of the osteoclast precursors after culturing peripheral blood mononuclear cells and determines a concentration that is diagnostic of IJD; Invention II obtains a measure of TNF- α protein that is secreted after culturing peripheral blood mononuclear cells and determines a concentration that is diagnostic of IJD; Invention III obtains different measures of OCP at different time frames to determine an improvement of IJD by virtue of improved measured concentrations of OCP; and Invention IV determines if a pharmaceutical agent has the ability to treat IJD by administering the test agent to a patient subject and then monitoring an improvement of the concentrations of OCD, wherein a decrease in the amount of OCD provides a determination that the test agent has a pharmaceutical efficacy to treat IJD.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Furthermore, because the search required for each one of Groups I-IV is not required for the other of each of Groups I-IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Literature search for each method is distinct since the structural requirements of each invention are different. While searches would be expected to overlap, there is no reason to expect the searches to be coextensive.

2. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1641

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
